The union of space is emphasised by the tiled finishes on the terraces.

SUSTAINABILITY and ENERGY EFFICIENCY

01

Thermo-acoustic insulation reduces thermal energy losses and improves the soundproofing of homes, both on the facade and on the roof.

02

The development will have a rainwater collection system for use in the irrigation of green areas.

03

Pre-installation of charging facilities for electric vehicles.

04

Installation of LED luminaires in communal areas that promote low consumption and high energy efficiency.

05

The vegetation has been chosen for its low need for irrigation, opting for autochthonous species of the area.

06

Photovoltaic panels on the roofs of the parking area harness sunlight to create energy for use in the communal areas.

07

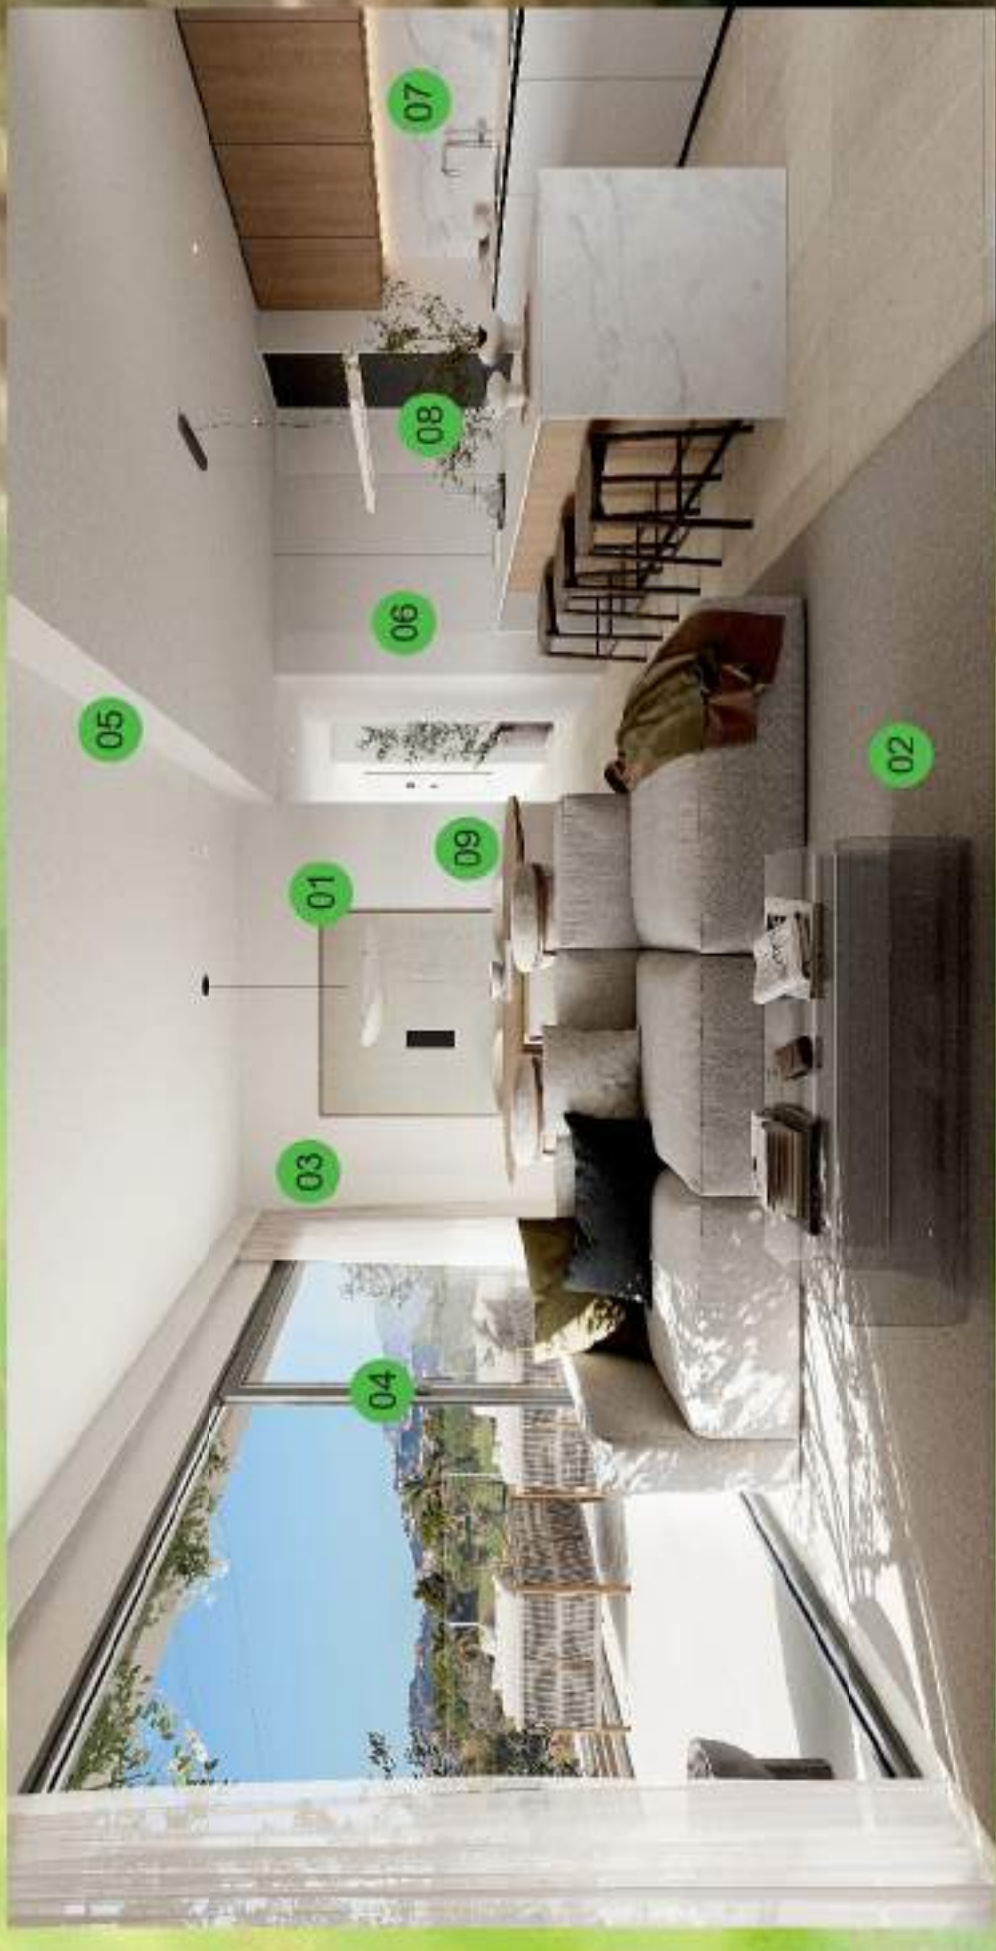

Implementation of effective security measures in residential layout.

08

The water in the heated pool is heated by aerothermal energy, a renewable energy that is environmentally friendly and reduces CO₂ emissions.

09

The outdoor pools have a sustainable salt chlorination treatment for the water, without chlorine or chemicals products.

01

The acoustic layer placed on the dividing walls helps to reduce noise between homes.

02

The anti-impact layer absorbs the transmission of impact noise or acoustic vibrations.

03

Thermo-acoustic insulation inside the partition walls of the home, which reduces thermal energy losses and improves soundproofing.

04

Aluminium windows with thermal break between the exterior and interior to guarantee thermal comfort and double glazing, "planitern" type glazing in living rooms, with low thermal emission and significant cost saving.

05

Single-flow ventilation brings fresh air into the home and exhausts stale air outdoors, thus maintaining air quality and regulating temperature.

06

Hot water is obtained by the aerothermal system, using the air's own heat as a renewable energy, which respects the environment and reduces CO₂ emissions.

07

The energy-saving taps installed allow a reduction of up to 40% in consumption, and the "coolstar" system helps to reduce hot water consumption due to its patented drive system.

08

Appliances with a high energy rating that guarantees low energy consumption.

09

The homes have a space reserved for the installation of a workspace.

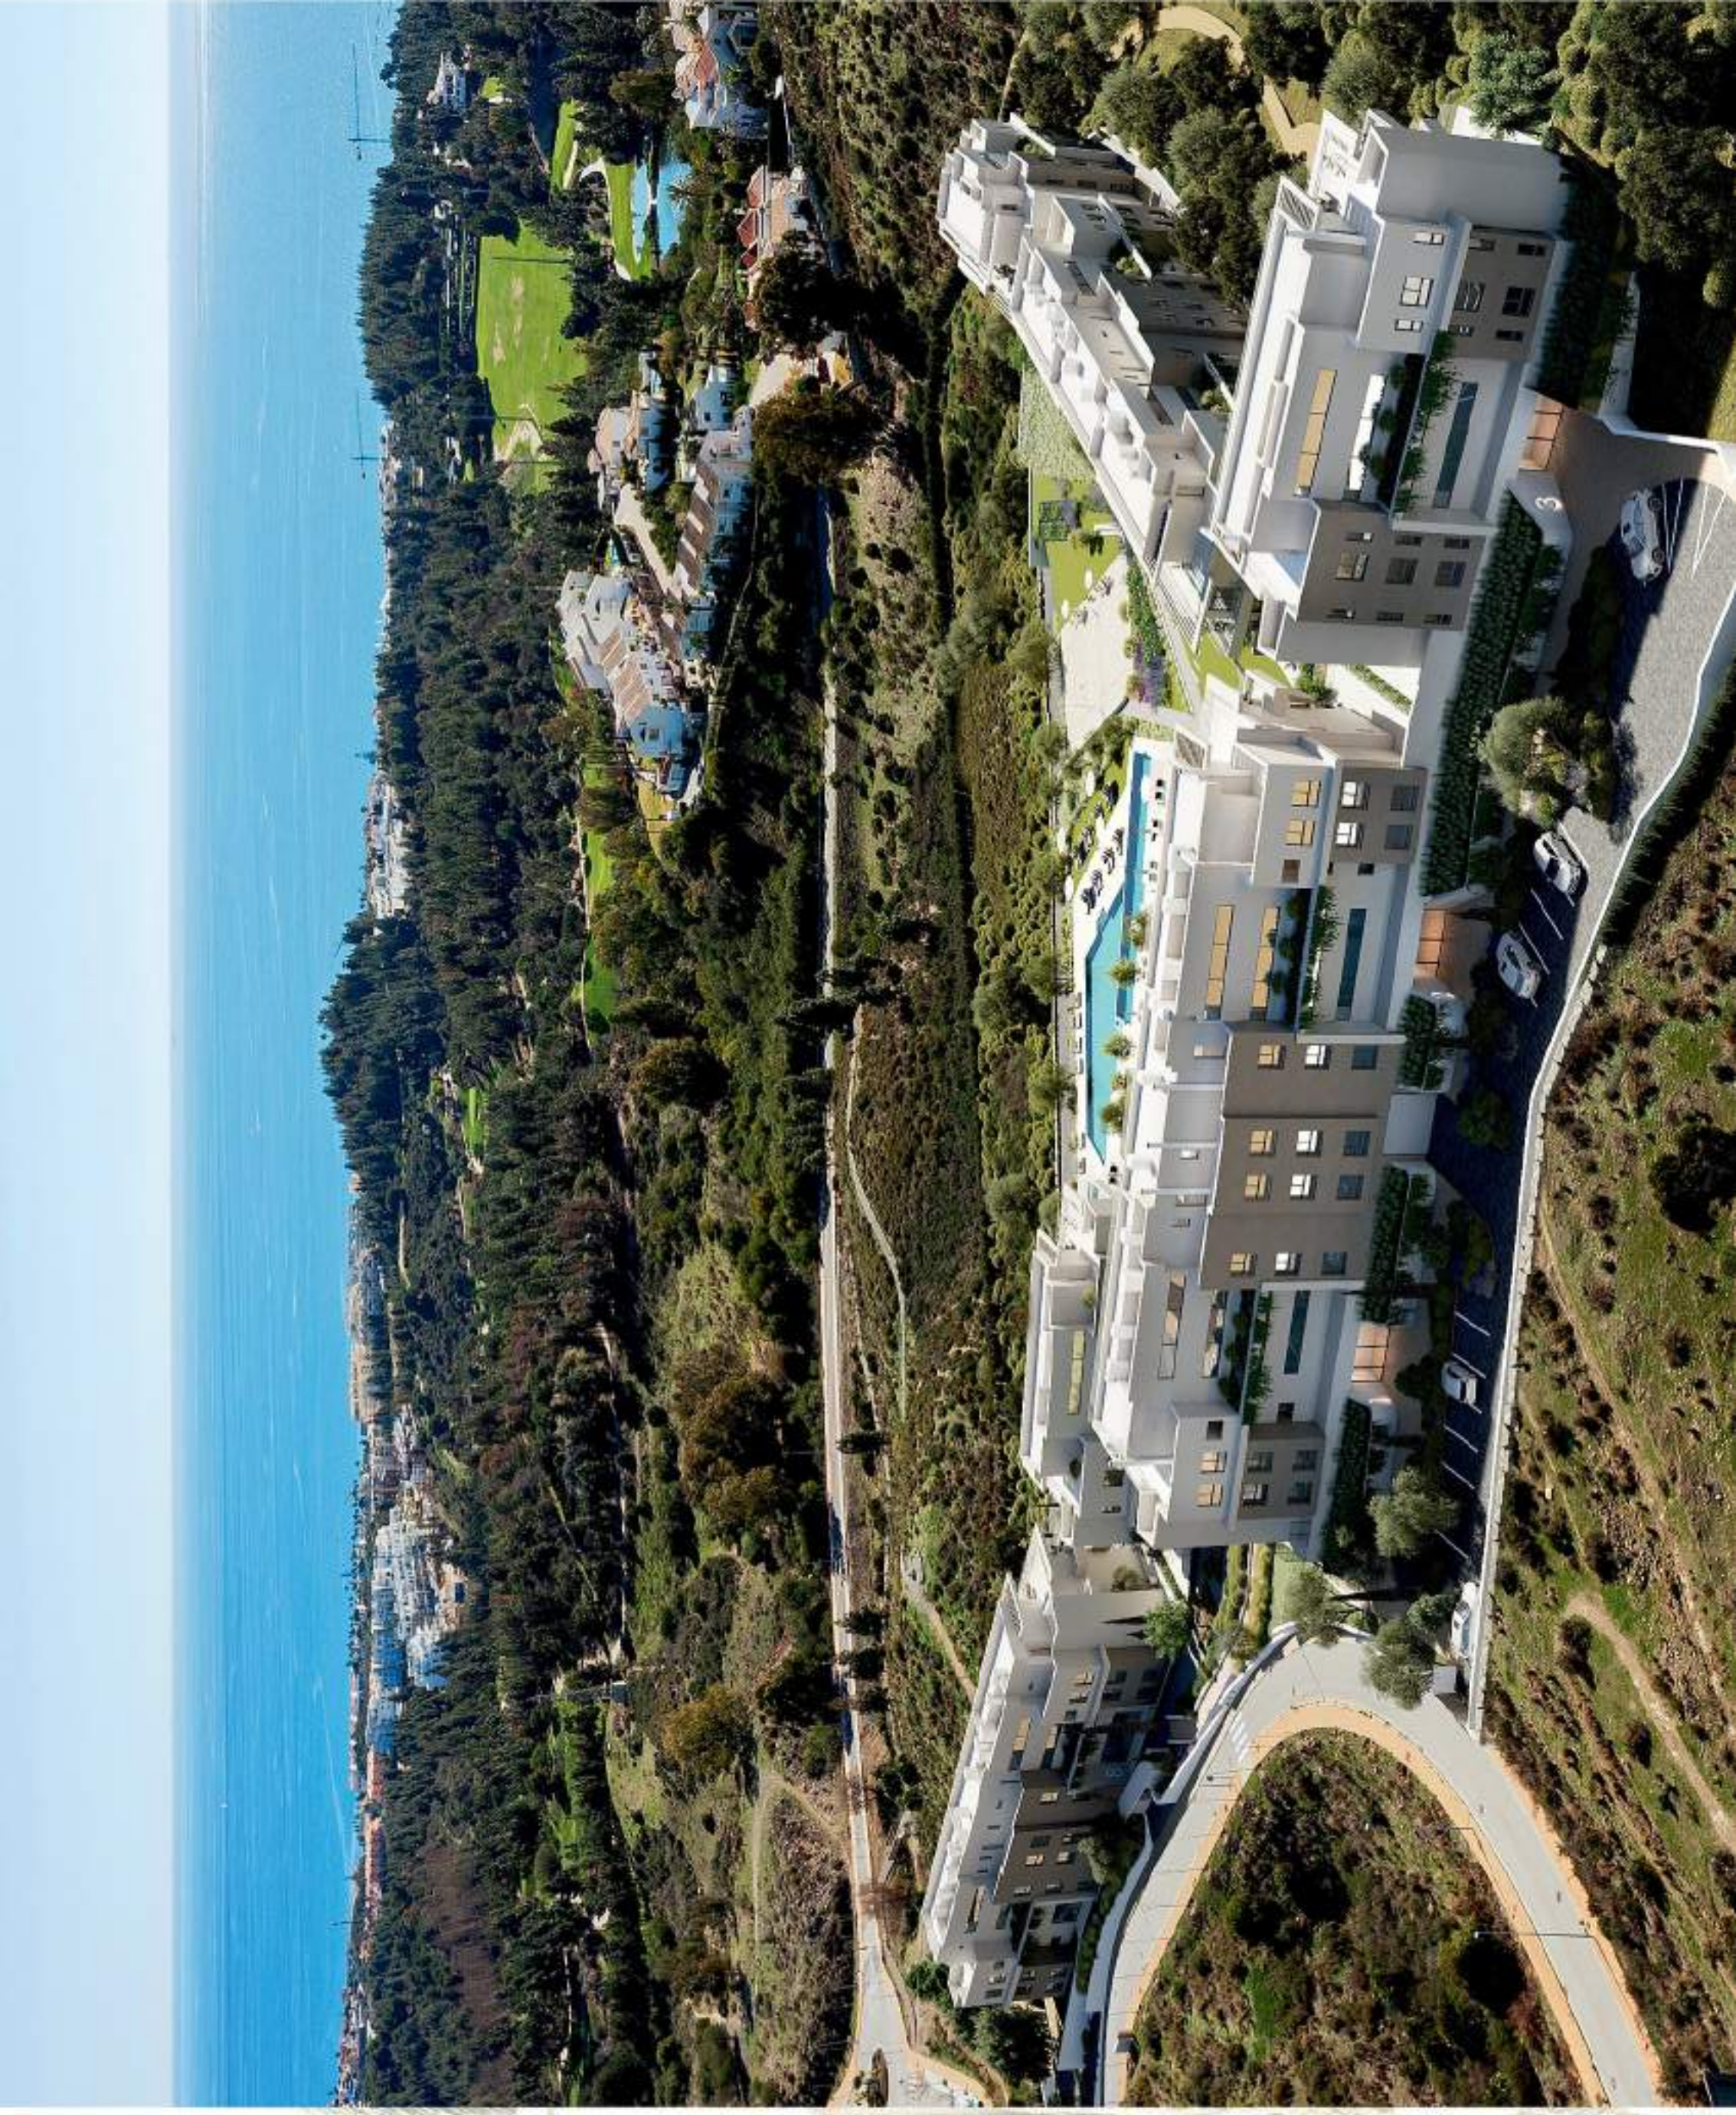

We create spaces thinking about people and responsible with the environment. At ALTOS DEL CHAPARRAL we have designed a healthier, more efficient and sustainable homes and environment.
